

Games and Puzzles to FIGHT the boredom

You have found it, an amazingly awesome collection of brain teasers, mind-blowers, fun-time activities to pass away the minutes and hours and days of an otherwise boring, boring, boring repetition of do this, do that, do this again in less time, blah-blah-blah. Grab a pencil or a pen or the pointy stick that you dip in a puddle of blackness, and prepare yourself for some awe-awe-awesome tic-tocks of the 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8-9-10-11-12 circuloid on the wall, and get ready for some Searches where the words are hiding among the squares, up and down, left and right, forward and backwards. And twisted words with letters missing, or all scrambled up like eggs, and youre supposed to figure them out all on your own. And numbers in a bunch of boxes, but not all of them, just enough so you can figure out where the eight goes and the four and the nine. And weird facts about insects and spiders, but missing is the one thing that tells you what is what, and which is which. And rectangles criss-crossing each other, and triangles, and youll be expected to count the ones over there and over there and that overlapping one up there. And hangman, but with a spider, so its really HangSpider, but that doesnt make sense because spiders dont die when they hang. So much to do, all here, waiting for you to get busy and start becoming the genius, smarty-smart dude or dudette you know you really are, even if those tall people in your life havent figured it out yet. Are you ready? Yes, I know. You were born ready, or was it crying cuz you saw the drudgery ahead of you, all those years of waiting and wondering and, hey, this is the solution. Buy it. Now. Lots of fun awaits you.
