

Countertransference and Retribution: Two Plays

At rise: A therapist and a patient are having a discussion in the therapists office.

Therapist From your phone call, I get the impression that you want to complain about a previous therapy, or to be precise, a psychotherapy, and, more specifically, a therapy with the designation talk therapy, like psychoanalysis.

Patient Actually, I want to complain about three or four of them, and also complain about some talk therapists that I only saw once. Therapist Before you go on, Id like you to know, that as far as I am concerned, many talk therapists can be ineffective and, unfortunately, can sometimes even do harm to patients. There are some good ones but you probably couldnt afford one of them. I like to think of myself as one of the good ones. Youre here because I like to help people like you, who seemed to have had a difficult time in therapy. In fact, this is my mission in life.
