

PI KAPPA DIE

After gang raping a coed, frat brothers find her dead in the bathtub, apparently from a suicide, but then the brothers become trapped in the frat house and begin to be killed by both living and dead victims of their great grandfathers. Unofficially, a fraternity has been given their last warning that any future incidents of hazing will result in the closure of the fraternity. The brothers decide to throw one last party, before the inevitable takes place and they're closed. The brothers throw a wild party, which results in a local girl, hired as a stripper, being gang raped, by all of the brothers, except one. The next morning, the brothers discover the girl dead, in the bathtub, which is filled with blood. The brothers conclude that it was an apparent suicide and take a vote on whether to call the police, with there being just a slight majority to NOT call the police and to dispose of the body, in order to avoid any more trouble, as all of the brothers see themselves as having a bright future. When they decide to dispose of the body, they discover that the body has vanished and then brothers begin to die, leading the brothers to suspect that one of the ones who voted for calling the police (the one who did not take place in the gang rape), is taking his revenge. After the brothers beat and torture the primary suspect to death (accidentally), another brother dies, leading the surviving brothers to suspect that there's someone/something else in the house with them. They soon discover that they're being punished by living descendants and ghosts of victims of the founding members of the fraternity. WARNING: THIS BOOK CONTAINS GRAPHIC VIOLENCE, PROFANITY, AND SEXUAL SITUATIONS.
