It has been suggested that there must be a direct liability of the outsider to the plaintiff on the same claim as the defendant is liable upon; ii contradicted by Benecke vs. Frost, 1 Q. B. D., 419, and Ansea Shipping Co. vs. Duncan, 1 Q. B. D., 644. The 1878 Hajeb Mahomed Bads Ha S.UIKII V. NIOOL, Fleming And Co. Argument. 1878 object is to prevent the same question from being litigated twice, Hajeb or differently decided by different juries. The Swansea Shippiig 1badshad V8, Duncan shows that the parties must appear and take Saheb part iu the trial, if a material question in the action is also a Nicoi., question between the defendant and the third person, and that Ca the case here. Judgment. pONTIFEX, /:--Pontifex,/. jn this case Nicol, Fleming & Co., merchants, of Calcutta purchased from one Pestonjee Edulee, a cargo of rice, at Chandballi, of three different qualities, according to sample. A few days afterwards Nicol, Fleming & Co. telegraphed to Hajee Mahomed Badsha Saheb at Madras an offer to sell to him a cargo of rice then at Chandballi, by description, and that offer was accepted by telegram. Two days after receiving the telegram, Nicol, Fleming & Co. sent down to Madras three different samples of the cargo. These samples were received by the plaintiff as not differing from the previous description and no objection was made to them. Subsequently to the arrival of the cargo at Madras, plaintiff complained that the bulk of the rice did not correspond with the samples; a survey was held at which the bulk was compared with the samples, and the whole dispute between the plaintiff aud
